BRAINERD AND BREEZY POINT GAIN CONCLAVE

LEAGUE OF STATE MUNICIPALITIES 1928 CONVENTION

SUCCESS CROWNS EFFORTS OF ENERGETIC BRAINERD DELEGATION

AUSTIN PUT UP STIFF FIGHT TO GAIN THE MEETING

Brainerd and Breezy Point was selected as the 1928 convention locality of the League of Minnesota Municipalities at the close of the convention at the Kenwood Armory yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock by the vote of 30 to 29 over Austin in the closest and warmest battle ever staged by cities for the convention.

The convention was secured through the concentrated efforts of the Brainerd delegation, comprising Mayor Frank E. Little, City Attorney D. H. Fullerton, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee, W. D. McKay, secretary of the Brainerd Water and Light Board, W. J. Lyons, president of the city council, and the assistance of Breezy Point Lodge, Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club and Lions Club.

Brainerd had a regulation size booth, 10 by 10 feet, which included pictures of Breezy Point, City Hall, pumping station, showing utilities and public buildings, and charts as published in The Brainerd Daily Dispatch.

Austin had a triple booth, 30 by 10, arranged in fine style. A forty page booklet on Austin as well as ribbon badges were distributed. There was also a large delegation working to secure the convention.

The fact that Breezy Point extended the invitation in conjunction with Brainerd went over big. Mr. McKay distributed 300 papers of The Brainerd Daily Dispatch to the delegates which told of the attractions of the Brainerd region as a convention city and extended a cordial invitation to the delegates to hold their next convention in Brainerd. Mr. McKay also gave a talk to the gathering before the invitation was extended, on public utilities in Brainerd.

Mayor Frank E. Little extended the invitation to the association to hold their next convention in Brainerd and Breezy Point. His talk was earnest in his appeal and met with the approval of all. He was followed by a talk by City Attorney Fullerton.

On the first vote taken, Austin received 29 votes, Brainerd 26, Duluth 3 and Thief River Falls 2. Duluth and Thief River Falls were eliminated.

After the first vote the city of Ely made a motion that inasmuch that Austin received the highest vote that Austin be made the unanimous choice. The Brainerd delegation objected to this and the chairman refused to put the Ely motion to a vote.

In the next vote taken Brainerd received 30 votes and Austin 29. The vote came about 5 o'clock, one hour later than scheduled, with the result that many had left for their homes earlier.

Each vote represents the vote of a city even though that city may have had any number of delegates present.

Thief River Falls had present the president of the tourist bureau of Winnipeg who urged the convention to go to Thief River Falls, and extended an invitation to the delegates should they decide on Thief River Falls as the convention city, to journey to Winnipeg to conclude their trip.

"I think the fact that all delegates were anxious to see Breezy Point had a lot to do with Brainerd securing the convention," City Attorney D. H. Fullerton stated on his return from Minneapolis. "They had heard that Breezy Point was the greatest resort in the state. Any number of delegates from the southern part of the state came up to us afterwards and mentioned the fact that they had been in Brainerd and knew the lake country and were anxious to come back as they believed this to be the logical place for the holding of summer conventions."

"One of the biggest advantages of securing the convention is that we will have representatives from every city in the state in attendance. They are probably in contact with the travelling public more than anyone else, so that if they are favorably impressed, no doubt they will be the means of directing tourist trade to this part of the country. MAKING ROUND WORLD JAUNT ON BICYCLE

Omaha, June 17.—(UP)—While aviators are contemplating a round the world flight, Bertil Hult, newspaper man of Stockholm, Sweden, is demonstrating the old adage of the snail and the hare.

Hult is making his round the world jaunt on a bicycle. When he left here today for Minneapolis, his speedometer registered 25,400 miles. He left Stockholm April 15, he said, and plans to arrive back there Aug. 31.

While crossing Africa he was captured by Abd-El-Krim, the Moroccan chieftain, and in Burma he was bitten by a huge python. He said he averages 100 miles a day.

FIGHT HORDES OF GRASSHOPPERS

200 OREGON MEN USING POISONS AND FIRE TO SAVE GRAIN

Klamath Falls, Ore., June 17.—(UP)—Additional forces will join the "army" of more than 200 men fighting with poisons and fire, increasing hordes of grasshoppers that threaten to destroy grain crops in the Tule Lake region.

For two weeks the insects have held their own against the poisoning crews and squads equipped with especially constructed burners. As soon as one sector is wiped out, a new legion springs up in another area.

The reinforced crews will keep up the fight until the hatching season has passed, County Agent C. A. Henderson said.

"After that we can wipe them out rapidly for they will be without additional forces," he said.

The Tule Lake region near here is populated with wheat farmers. Each year the grasshoppers infest the district at hatching season, and several times in the past have all but depleted the crops.

Mourn Death of Mrs. Louisa McGovern, Was 103 Years Old

San Rafael, Cal., June 17.—(UP)—Old residents of Marin county today were mourning the death of Mrs. Louisa McGovern, 103, said to be the first white child born in northern California.

For the last 100 years Mrs. McGovern has lived in this region, north of San Francisco Bay. Her father, Gregorio Brienies was one of the early Spanish governors of California.

The family received a land grant of 18,000 acres from King Fernando VII. of Spain.

One of the best advertising features we could possibly secure.

"Another thing that helped a great deal in securing of the convention was the fact that the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary club and the Lions club each sent telegrams urging the convention. These telegrams were read immediately after Mayor Little's address and before I spoke. These organizations in their telegrams offered to do all in their power to put over the convention big."

Representatives from Crosby and Ironton, as well as Staples and St. Cloud were "lobbying around" for Brainerd.

Over 600 delegates, many being accompanied by their families, were in attendance at the convention June 14, 15 and 16. The delegates represent 287 cities, towns and villages throughout the state.

Minneapolis feted the delegates to a banquet in the Radisson Hotel and took the delegation on a forty mile drive around the parks.

N. G. Brandt, mayor of Virginia, was elected president, succeeding Charles F. Keyes, Minneapolis. Mr. Keyes was named a trustee.

The convention in Brainerd and at Breezy Point next year will be held in June, the exact dates to be set later.

HOLD ALLEGED STRANGLER MURDERER

ONE ADRIAN HARRIS NOW IN CUSTODY IN WINNIPEG

IS BELIEVED RESPONSIBLE FOR MURDER OF DOZEN WOMEN

Winnipeg, Man., June 17.—(UP)—Positively identified by Winnipeg police as Adrian Harris, alleged strangler-murderer, a man held in the city jail here is believed responsible for the murder of more than a dozen women, whose deaths baffled authorities of several cities of the United States.

Harris was captured at Killarney yesterday following one of the greatest manhunts in Manitoba history. More than a thousand armed men, including several American detectives aiding the Canadiana, authorities, surrounded the suspect in a wooded plot after he had escaped from the town jail fifteen minutes after his arrest the night before.

The chain of unsolved crimes in the United States may be cleared as a result of Harris' arrest, police here declared today. The crime orgy which commenced in San Francisco two years ago followed a trail through several states extending as far east as Chicago.

In a telegram late yesterday to the police chief of Portland, Ore., Phillip Stark, acting chief constable, said, "Murderer arrested, identified, thanks for cordial co-operation. Harris without a doubt."

In the meantime finger prints found in connection with the murders of several women in the United States are being rushed to Winnipeg for comparison with those of the arrested man.

Following his capture yesterday, the suspect gave his name as Virgil Wilson, but later, when lodged in the city prison, he changed it to Earle Nelson.

Harris' arrest followed the slaying of a Winnipeg woman and girl over the week-end. The crimes were committed in a manner similar to those among the unsolved murders in the United States.

Mrs. Emily Patterson, 34, was found strangled to death at her home here a week ago. In the search for clues, police found the nude body of 14-year-old Lola Cowen, high school student, hidden beneath the bed in the room occupied by one day by a man giving his name as Woodcock.

Discovery of the two murders amounted to a reign of terror in the city. Stores were soon depleted of stocks of locks, and in many homes doors and windows were nailed shut.

Then started the greatest manhunt. Resorting to radio broadcasting a description of the man who rented the room in which the girl's body was found, was sent throughout Canada and the United States.

American detectives in Canada attending a convention were pressed into service, and aided Winnipeg police in checking on hundreds of suspects taken into custody within a few days.

First definite clues were obtained late Wednesday when a farmer near Killarney reported to police that a man answering the description of the slayer had asked for food at his home. Immediately posses were organized, and within a short time the suspect was arrested. At the Killarney jail a double lock was placed on his cell, but fifteen minutes later the locks were picked, and the prisoner gone.

A general alarm was sounded, and nearly a thousand armed men were on the escaped prisoner's trail. At daybreak Thursday it was established that the suspect was cornered in a wooded plot south of Killarney. Word was sent to Winnipeg and a special train carrying armed men was rushed to the little town, 150 miles away. The suspect was captured without difficulty. He was found hiding beneath a bush almost under the wheels of the special train which bore his captors.

Harris is about 32 years old, is five feet six inches tall, and has dark

ENGLISH DIRIGIBLES TO BE IMMENSE FLYING HOTELS

Washington, June 17.—(UP)—The two 5,000,000 cubic foot capacity dirigibles Great Britain is constructing for service to India, Australia, Canada, and South Africa will be flying hotels.

Each will carry approximately 100 passengers, luggage and 10 tons of mail. The accommodations will include sleeping cabins like American Pullmans, promenade decks, lounging rooms and smoking rooms and dining rooms capable of seating 50 at a time.

Commander Garland Fulton, of the navy's aeronautics bureau, who revealed these specifications today, estimated also that the new 6,000,000 cubic foot capacity dirigible which the navy will begin to build soon, could circle the earth in three hops, throttled down to about 35 knots. Her regular cruising speed will be 50 knots. Her cruising radius at the lower speed will be 10,000 miles, and 7,000 at 50 knots.

TWO STORMS ON ATLANTIC NOW DELAY FLIGHT

BYRD'S NON-STOP FLIGHT TO PARIS WILL START SUNDAY OR MONDAY

BAD WEATHER IN EVIDENCE BETWEEN NEWFOUNDLAND AND IRELAND

New York, June 17.—(UP)—Two storms in mid-Atlantic today made it virtually certain that the Byrd non-stop flight from New York to Europe could not start before Sunday or Monday.

The storms were between Newfoundland and Ireland, and weather observers predicted they would not clear up for at least 48 hours.

Commander Richard E. Byrd was prepared to start in his tri-motored Fokker monoplane as soon as weather conditions permitted.

Reports that he planned a return flight from Paris to New York or some other new aviation feat continued to circulate today, but Byrd himself said he had no definite plans beyond reaching Paris safely with his crew of two assistants.

New York demonstrated that it has not yet tired of Atlantic flights when 5,000 persons gathered at Roosevelt Field late last night in response to a rumor that Byrd was preparing to leave.

WILL NOW STAND TRIAL FOR MURDER

Leavenworth, Kas., June 17.—(UP)—Theodore Ossweiler, educated for the priesthood, has been restored to his right mind and will be taken from the ward for the criminal insane at the penitentiary here to Wichita to stand trial for first degree murder.

August 1, 1926, Ossweiler stepped from an early Sunday Mass at St. Mary's Cathedral at Wichita and shot and killed Miss Caroline Cunningham, "the only girl he ever cared for."

Dr. F. A. Carmichael, head of the Oswatimie hospital, in collaboration with other doctors, reported to Warden Mackey that Ossweiler was now in his right mind.

brown hair, combed pompadour fashion, and thinning in front.

With news of his capture, crowds similar to those which a few weeks before heard news of Charles Lindbergh's flight from New York to Paris gathered at the newspaper offices eagerly seeking new developments in the sensational case.

Fear was expressed by authorities that violence might result with the arrival of the special train bearing the prisoner, and plans were made to take him to a jail in another city. However, the prisoner was taken from the train at Winnipeg and lodged in the city jail. A heavy guard remained on duty around the jail throughout the night.

LINDY GUIDING SPIRIT OF ST. LOUIS TO MISSOURI

HIS COURSE COVERS COLUMBUS, DAYTON AND INDIANAPOLIS

IN PARTING WORD THANKS NEW YORK FOR HIS "GREAT VISIT"

By C. C. NICOLET (United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 17.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, loaded with world honors, started back today to the west from which he came, almost unknown, a month ago.

Lindbergh, flying the Spirit of St. Louis, the other half of the "we" that made the first non-stop flight from New York to Paris, took off from Mitchell Field, Long Island, at 8:17 A. M., for St. Louis.

There and all along the route, his countrymen waited to duplicate the honors that so far only New York and Washington have been able to pay.

True to the tradition he has built up for himself, Lindbergh couldn't leave without kicking up his heels a bit for the benefit of the crowd of 2,000 which had gathered to watch him.

The Spirit of St. Louis was in its hangar, and the crowd waited for several minutes to pay tribute to the flier.

But Lindbergh crawled into the cabin, listened a moment to the perfect hum of the motor, and "opened her up wide."

The plane shot out into the field, taxied a hundred feet and rose sharply into the air. In little more than a minute it was out of sight.

Just before the start Lindbergh said he expected to arrive in St. Louis at 4:30 P. M., central standard time.

Lindbergh also announced his course just before he departed. He said he would fly over Columbus, O., Dayton, O., and Indianapolis, Ind. He will land at Lambert Field, St. Louis.

Lindbergh's start was so sudden that the surprised crowd didn't get a chance to cheer until he was leaving the ground, but it made up for that by continuing to watch him and shout for the brief time before he disappeared.

Just before the start, a reporter asked Lindbergh, "Will you do any stunts over New York?"

"Certainly not," he said indignantly. "This plane isn't built for stunt flying."

Which, considering the number of surprising feats he did over Mitchell and Roosevelt fields yesterday in the Spirit of St. Louis took the newspaperman somewhat by surprise.

His parting word to New York was that he had enjoyed his "great visit" and deeply appreciated the honors he had been given.

Lindbergh's departure ended a crowded week such as few men ever have experienced. Since he arrived in Washington from France a week ago tomorrow, he has received the homage of millions. His four days in New York were almost a continuous round of functions and everywhere he went, his fellow Americans thronged to see him and to cheer themselves hoarse.

After a busy 35 hours without sleep, during which time he flew to Washington and back, made a dozen speeches and two dozen public appearances, the young flier got to bed shortly after midnight and was up again a few minutes after six this morning.

At one of the last functions attended by him last night Lindbergh received the Raymond Orteig prize of $25,000 for being the first to fly from New York to Paris.

Orteig handed the flier an engraved check for the amount.

After the ceremony he changed to evening clothes at his apartment and went to a reception by Wisconsin alumni, Lindbergh having at one time attended that university. Thereafter he was the guest of the Aero-

CHICKEN BROODER EXPLODES; FOUR PEOPLE LOSE LIVES

Port Huron, Mich., June 17.—(UP)—Explosion of a chicken brooder lamp early today is blamed for the fire which burned to death Mrs. Stephen Malinske, 34, and her three children, Stephen, 11, Mary, 7, and Margaret, 3.

The mother yesterday had purchased the brooder and placed it in the children's bedroom. When she and her husband discovered the flames, he ran outside for help, but she dashed back into the flaming inferno to her death.

The family lived about ten miles from here.

34 DRIVERS IN TRIAL SPINS

ANNUAL HAMLINE CLASSIC AT STATE FAIR GROUNDS SATURDAY

St. Paul, Minn., June 17.—(UP)—Thirty-four drivers today were making trial spins at the Minnesota State Fair Grounds in preparation for the annual Hamline automobile classic here Saturday.

With no restrictions as to the size of motors the rule this year, it is expected that records for the dirt track here will be broken.

An indication of the speed to be established during the 140-mile event Saturday will be given today when the drivers are to qualify and determine positions for the long grind.

Most of the drivers are from the middle-west with a number reputed to be of championship calibre.

SOCIAL WORKERS AT DETROIT LAKES

Detroit Lakes, Minn., June 17.—(UP)—Social workers of the state were in attendance here today at a regional conference to discuss social problems. The meeting was called by the state board of control.

nautical Chamber of Commerce of America.

Dayton, Ohio, June 17.—(UP)—Charles Lindbergh, winging his way back over the path he followed to fame five short weeks ago, passed over Dayton at 12:58 E. S. T. today.

The flying viking who soared away from Mitchell field, Long Island, at 8:17 this morning, had flown a little more than one-half of the distance to St. Louis when sighted here.

As the trans-Atlantic hero, hurrying to a long-delayed homecoming, came out of the east, a squadron of 29 airplanes took the air at one minute intervals from Wright field until the sky was dotted with their dark wings and the hum of their motors sounded a distant roar.

Col. Lindbergh waited for the escort to join him. He dropped down from the sky until he was nearly to the top of the taller buildings and then spent his time thrilling the throngs with sharp banks and turns as he whirled around the business section.

Then with the escort planes in the air, and in regular formation, Lindbergh started off at 1:12 p. m., E. S. T., toward the west and his companion aviators fell in behind.

Lambert St. Louis Flying Field, St. Louis, Mo., June 17.—Despite efforts of officials to discourage a large gathering at this field where Charles A. Lindbergh is to land his "Spirit of St. Louis" at 4 p. m., a steadily increasing crowd braved a drizzling rain this afternoon to witness the homecoming of the flying hero.

The field had every appearance of an army encampment as final preparations were made for Lindbergh's landing. Rows of tents pitched by national guardsmen and regular army troops brought here to handle the crowd dotted the outskirts of the open landing space. A mobile army kitchen emitted pleasant odors from one corner of the field.

The soldiers, some 13,000 of them in all, were armed with pistols and bayonets, but carried no rifles. They stood guard at the four foot wire fence which separated spectators from the landing field. Automobiles were parked in a limited space southwest of the hangars.

WILL ATTEND COOLIDGE NAVAL CONFERENCE

MAY ALSO ACCEPT REDUCTION IN MAXIMUM TONNAGE FOR BATTLESHIPS

AGREEMENT, CONDITIONAL UPON ACCEPTANCE BY THE OTHER POWERS

London, June 17.—(UP)—The Daily Telegraph's diplomatic correspondent understands, he reported today, that the Japanese delegation to the Coolidge naval conference at Geneva has been instructed to accept a 5-5-3 ratio for destroyers, submarines and auxiliary craft.

According to the correspondent, the Japanese delegation would agree to a reduction in the maximum tonnage for battleships from the present 35,000 to 20,000, in cruisers from 10 to 8,000 or 6,000, and corresponding reductions for submarines.

This agreement, however, would be conditional upon its acceptance by the other powers, especially France and Italy.

The spokesman for the Japanese war ministry, according to the Daily Mail, informed the press that in the event Great Britain and the United States together bring pressure to bear upon Japan for an extension of the 5-5-3 ratio, Japan will demand of Britain abandonment of its Singapore naval base project and of the United States maintenance of the status quo regarding Hawaiian fortifications and garrisons.

BRITISH REPRESENTATIVES DEPART FOR GENEVA

By KEITH JONES (United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, June 17.—Principals of Great Britain's delegation to President Coolidge's naval limitations conference at Geneva departed today, headed by W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the admiralty. Bridgeman was accompanied by Vice Admiral F. L. Field, and each had a retinue of secretaries.

Dame Caroline Bridgeman accompanied her husband who, as head of what would be the navy department in the United States, can speak for the British cabinet and the British navy and speak with authority.

Well-founded information indicated today that the British delegation would be prepared at Geneva to make almost any concession regarding reduction of battleship and submarine strength to aid the discussions toward useful results. But, Britain was believed to be ready to resist strenuously any effort to disturb the 5-5-3 ratio or to bring about a realignment of naval strength except on a basis of tonnage by classification.

That scheme of rating naval power differs from the one desired by France, whereby each country would be allotted a fixed tonnage with permission to employ it at will, using all for submarines or for any other type of craft.

Britain also was expected to be ready Monday to submit to further reduction in the size and armaments of cruisers, but she would resist any reduction in the numerical strength of her cruiser fleet beyond the admiralty's estimate of the number of cruisers essential to keep open British Empire trade routes and to combat the submarine threat of neighboring continental nations.

It was presumed that the United States delegation, led by Hugh S. Gibson, ambassador to Belgium, would understand British insistence that there be no reduction in her numerical cruiser strength so long as there was a concerted effort by France and Italy, partly supported by Japan, to scrap limitation of naval strength by classification and to substitute the total tonnage basis of limitation, and Britain fears submarines which are judged to be the greatest menace to her trade routes.

The war taught Britain how dangerous submarines could be and also that cruisers were the best weapon with which to oppose submarines. Britain is not likely to forget the one nor to surrender the other so long as the menace exists potentially or otherwise.

San Francisco, June 17.—(UP)—Hopes for the recovery of John Drew noted actor, were increased today when attending physicians reported he had rested well during the night. His condition is still regarded as critical, however.

Word was sent to Winnipeg and a special train carrying armed men was rushed to the little town, 150 miles away. The suspect was captured without difficulty. He was found hiding beneath a bush almost under the wheels of the special train which bore his captors.

ENGLISH DIRIGIBLES TO BE IMMENSE FLYING HOTELS

Washington, June 17.—(UP)—The two 5,000,000 cubic foot capacity dirigibles Great Britain is constructing for service to India, Australia, Canada, and South Africa will be flying hotels.

Each will carry approximately 100 passengers, luggage and 10 tons of mail. The accommodations will include sleeping cabins like American Pullmans, promenade decks, lounging rooms and smoking rooms and dining rooms capable of seating 50 at a time.

Commander Garland Fulton, of the navy's aeronautics bureau, who revealed these specifications today, estimated also that the new 6,000,000 cubic foot capacity dirigible which the navy will begin to build soon, could circle the earth in three hops, throttled down to about 35 knots. Her regular cruising speed will be 50 knots. Her cruising radius at the lower speed will be 10,000 miles, and 7,000 at 50 knots.

TWO STORMS ON ATLANTIC NOW DELAY FLIGHT

BYRD'S NON-STOP FLIGHT TO PARIS WILL START SUNDAY
OR MONDAY

BAD WEATHER IN EVIDENCE
BETWEEN NEWFOUNDLAND AND IRELAND

New York, June 17.—(UP)—Two storms in mid-Atlantic today made it virtually certain that the Byrd non-stop flight from New York to Europe could not start before Sunday or Monday.

The storms were between Newfoundland and Ireland, and weather observers predicted they would not clear up for at least 48 hours.

Commander Richard E. Byrd was prepared to start in his tri-motored Fokker monoplane as soon as weather conditions permitted.

Reports that he planned a return flight from Paris to New York or some other new aviation feat continued to circulate today, but Byrd himself said he had no definite plans beyond reaching Paris safely with his crew of two assistants.

New York demonstrated that it has not yet tired of Atlantic flights when 5,000 persons gathered at Roosevelt Field late last night in response to a rumor that Byrd was preparing to leave.

WILL NOW STAND TRIAL FOR MURDER

Leavenworth, Kas., June 17.—(UP)—Theodore Ossweiler, educated for the priesthood, was restored to his right mind and will be taken from the ward for the criminal insane at the penitentiary here to Wichita to stand trial for first degree murder.

August 1, 1920, Ossweiler stepped from an early Sunday Mass at St. Mary's Cathedral at Wichita and shot and killed Miss Caroline Cunningham, "the only girl he ever cared for."

Dr. F. A. Carmichael, head of the Osawatimie hospital, in collaboration with other doctors, reported to Warden Mackey that Ossweiler was now in his right mind.

brown hair, combed pompadour fashion, and thinning in front.

With news of his capture, crowds similar to those which a few weeks before heard news of Charles Lindbergh's flight from New York to Paris gathered at the newspaper offices eagerly seeking new developments in the sensational case.

Fear was expressed by authorities that violence might result with the arrival of the special train bearing the prisoner, and plans were made to take him to a jail in another city. However, the prisoner was taken from the train at Winnipeg and lodged in the city jail. A heavy guard remained on duty around the jail throughout the night.

LINDY GUIDING SPIRIT OF ST. LOUIS TO MISSOURI

HIS COURSE COVERS COLUMBUS,
DAYTON AND INDIAN-
APOLIS

IN PARTING WORD THANKS NEW YORK FOR HIS "GREAT VISIT"

By C. C. NICOLET
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 17.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, loaded with world honors, started back today to the west from which he came, almost unknown, a month ago.

Lindbergh, flying the Spirit of St. Louis, the other half of the "we" that made the first non-stop flight from New York to Paris, took off from Mitchell Field, Long Island, at 8:17 A. M., for St. Louis.

There and all along the route, his countrymen waited to duplicate the honors that so far only New York and Washington have been able to pay.

True to the tradition he has built up for himself, Lindbergh couldn't leave without kicking up his heels a bit for the benefit of the crowd of 2,000 which had gathered to watch him.

The Spirit of St. Louis was in its bangar, and the crowd waited for several minutes to pay tribute to the flier.

But Lindbergh crawled into the cabin, listened a moment to the perfect hum of the motor, and "opened her up wide."

The plane shot out into the field, taxied a hundred feet and rose sharply into the air. In little more than a minute it was out of sight.

Just before the start Lindbergh said he expected to arrive in St. Louis at 4:30 P. M., central standard time.

Lindbergh also announced his course just before he departed. He said he would fly over Columbus, O., Dayton, O., and Indianapolis, Ind. He will land at Lambert Field, St. Louis.

Lindbergh's start was so sudden that the surprised crowd didn't get a chance to cheer until he was leaving the ground, but it made up for that by continuing to watch him and shout for the brief time before he disappeared.

Just before the start, a reporter asked Lindbergh, "Will you do any stunts over New York?"

"Certainly not," he said indignantly. "This plane isn't built for stunt flying."

Which, considering the number of surprising feats he did over Mitchell and Roosevelt fields yesterday in the Spirit of St. Louis took the newspaperman somewhat by surprise.

His parting word to New York was that he had enjoyed his "great visit" and deeply appreciated the honors he had been given.

Lindbergh's departure ended a crowded week such as few men ever have experienced. Since he arrived in Washington from France a week ago tomorrow, he has received the homage of millions. His four days in New York were almost a continuous round of functions and everywhere he went, his fellow Americans thronged to see him and to cheer themselves hoarse.

After a busy 35 hours without sleep, during which time he flew to Washington and back, made a dozen speeches and two dozen public appearances, the young flier got to bed shortly after midnight and was up again a few minutes after six this morning.

At one of the last functions attended by him last night Lindbergh received the Raymond Orteig prize of $25,000 for being the first to fly from New York to Paris.

Orteig handed the flier an engraved check for the amount.

After the ceremony he changed to evening clothes at his apartment and went to a reception by Wisconsin alumni, Lindbergh having at one time attended that university. Thereafter he was the guest of the Aero-

CHICKEN BROODER EXPLODES; FOUR PEOPLE LOSE LIVES

Port Huron, Mich., June 17.—(UP)—Explosion of a chicken brooder lamp early today is blamed for the fire which burned to death Mrs. Stephen Malinske, 34, and her three children, Stephen, 11, Mary, 7, and Margaret, 3.

The mother yesterday had purchased the brooder and placed it in the children's bedroom. When she and her husband discovered the flames, he ran outside for help, but she dashed back into the flaming inferno to her death.

The family lived about ten miles from here.

34 DRIVERS IN TRIAL SPINS

ANNUAL HAMLINE CLASSIC AT STATE FAIR GROUNDS SATURDAY

St. Paul, Minn., June 17.—(UP)—Thirty-four drivers today were making trial spins at the Minnesota State Fair Grounds in preparation for the annual Hamline automobile classic here Saturday.

With no restrictions as to the size of motors the rule this year, it is expected that records for the dirt track here will be broken.

An indication of the speed to be established during the 140-mile event Saturday will be given today when the drivers are to qualify and determine positions for the long grind.

Most of the drivers are from the middle-west with a number reputed to be of championship calibre.

SOCIAL WORKERS AT DETROIT LAKES

Detroit Lakes, Minn., June 17.—(UP)—Social workers of the state were in attendance here today at a regional conference to discuss social problems. The meeting was called by the state board of control.

nautical Chamber of Commerce of America.

Dayton, Ohio, June 17.—(UP)—Charles Lindbergh, winging his way back over the path he followed to fame five short weeks ago, passed over Dayton at 12:58 E. S. T. today.

The flying viking who soared away from Mitchell field, Long Island, at 8:17 this morning, had flown a little more than one-half of the distance to St. Louis when sighted here.

As the trans-Atlantic hero, hurrying to a long-delayed homecoming, came out of the east, a squadron of 29 airplanes took the air at one minute intervals from Wright field until the sky was dotted with their dark wings and the hum of their motors sounded a distant roar.

Col. Lindbergh waited for the escort to join him. He dropped down from the sky until he was nearly to the top of the taller buildings and then spent his time thrilling the throngs with sharp banks and turns as he whirled around the business section.

Then with the escort planes in the air, and in regular formation, Lindbergh started off at 1:12 p. m. E. S. T., toward the west and his companion aviators fell in behind.

Lambert St. Louis Flying Field, St. Louis, Mo., June 17.—Despite efforts of officials to discourage a large gathering at this field where Charles A. Lindbergh is to land his "Spirit of St. Louis" at 4 p. m., a steadily increasing crowd formed a drizzling rain this afternoon to witness the homecoming of the flying hero.

The field had every appearance of an army encampment as final preparations were made for Lindbergh's landing. Rows of tents pitched by national guardsmen and regular army troops brought here to handle the crowd dotted the outskirts of the open landing space. A mobile army kitchen emitted pleasant odors from one corner of the field.

The soldiers, some 13,000 of them in all, were armed with pistols and bayonets, but carried no rifles. They stood guard at the four foot wire fence which separated spectators from the landing field. Automobiles were parked in a limited space southwest of the hangars.

WILL ATTEND COOLIDGE NAVAL CONFERENCE

MAY ALSO ACCEPT REDUCTION IN MAXIMUM TONNAGE FOR BATTLESHIPS

AGREEMENT, CONDITIONAL, UP-ON ACCEPTANCE BY THE OTHER POWERS

London, June 17.—(UP)—The Daily Telegraph's diplomatic correspondent understands, he reported today, that the Japanese delegation to the Coolidge naval conference at Geneva has been instructed to accept a 5-5-3 ratio for destroyers, submarines and auxiliary craft.

According to the correspondent, the Japanese delegation would agree to a reduction in the maximum tonnage for battleships from the present 35,000 to 20,000, in cruisers from 10 to 8,000 or 6,000, and corresponding reductions for submarines.

This agreement, however, would be conditional upon its acceptance by the other powers, especially France and Italy.

The spokesman for the Japanese war ministry, according to the Daily Mail, informed the press that in the event Great Britain and the United States together bring pressure to bear upon Japan for an extension of the 5-5-3 ratio, Japan will demand of Britain abandonment of its Singapore naval base project and of the United States maintenance of the status quo regarding Hawaiian fortifications and garrisons.

BRITISH REPRESENTATIVES
DEPART FOR GENEVA

By KEITH JONES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, June 17.—Principals of Great Britain's delegation to President Coolidge's naval limitations conference at Geneva departed today, headed by W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the admiralty. Bridgeman was accompanied by Vice Admiral F. L. Field, and each had a retinue of secretaries.

Dame Caroline Bridgeman accompanied her husband who, as head of what would be the navy department in the United States, can speak for the British cabinet and the British navy and speak with authority.

Well-founded information indicated today that the British delegation would be prepared at Geneva to make almost any concession regarding reduction of battleship and submarine strength to aid the discussions toward useful results. But, Britain was believed to be ready to resist strenuously any effort to disturb the 5-5-3 ratio or to bring about a reallocation of naval strength except on a basis of tonnage by classification. That scheme of rating naval power differs from the one desired by France, whereby each country would be allotted a fixed tonnage with permission to employ it at will, using all for submarines or for any other type of craft.

Britain also was expected to be ready Monday to submit to further reduction in the size and armaments of cruisers, but she would resist any reduction in the numerical strength of her cruiser fleet beyond the admiralty's estimate of the number of cruisers essential to keep open British Empire trade routes and to combat the submarine threat of neighboring continental navies.

It was presumed that the United States delegation, led by Hugh S. Gibson, ambassador to Belgium, would understand British insistence that there be no reduction in her numerical cruiser strength so long as there was a concerted effort by France and Italy, partly supported by Japan, to scrap limitation of naval strength by classification and to substitute the total tonnage basis of limitation, and Britain fears submarines which are judged to be the greatest menace to her trade routes.

The war taught Britain how dangerous submarines could be and also that officers were the best weapon with which to oppose submarines. Britain is not likely to forget the one nor to surrender the other so long as the menace exists potentially or otherwise.

San Francisco, June 17.—(UP)—Hopes for the recovery of John Drew noted actor, were increased today when attending physicians reported he had rested well during the night. His condition is still regarded as critical, however.

FRIDAY, JUNE 17, 1927

BIG MILK FLOOD COMING

A FLOOD of nearly 2,124,000 gallons of milk is due on Crow Wing county farms during the next 150 days, according to an estimate made by the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. About two-thirds will be consumed within 48 hours after it is produced. But fully 708,000 gallons will be separated, converted into cream, held for four or five days perhaps, then marketed as butterfat. It is the handling of this last third of the production in warm weather that largely determines the farmer's yearly profit from his cows.

Three times as much milk is produced in summer as in winter, just at the time when it is most difficult to care for milk products properly. Cleanliness and low temperature are the secrets of producing high quality products. One of the big factors in the price paid for cream is its quality. Progressive farmers are increasing their incomes by taking advantage of the new system of handling milk products recommended by the agricultural colleges.

Absolute cleanliness and cold water are the basis of the college methods. Prof. E. H. Farrington of the University of Wisconsin, one of America's greatest agricultural instructors, explains the procedure of making sweet cream in substance, as follows: After each skimming, take the separator bowl and tinware apart immediately, wash with cold water, then wash with hot water, a brush and washing powder, finally scalding them with boiling water or steam so that wiping will be unnecessary. Cool the cream as it comes from the separator or immediately after, and keep it below 60 degrees.

In the absence of ice or a running spring, a cooling tank can be arranged by placing a covered barrel or tub, large enough to hold two cans, between a pump and a watering trough. The smaller of the two cans should be used to hold the warm cream until it is thoroughly cooled down, then it can be added to the cold cream in the larger can. Never mix warm and cold cream. By following these directions, the average farmer with home-made equipment can market, if not always a sweet product, at least always a high quality product that will fetch high prices.

BRAINERD LOOMS AS CONVENTION CITY

BRAINERD looms large as a convention city.

For instance, tomorrow Better Sires Day will be observed with the largest attendance of farmers in the history of the city. A central location has been secured for the cattle display and so big does it bulk in the affairs of business that Charles Donnelly, president of the Northern Pacific railway, puts aside other engagements to be present and deliver an address.

And then the Gypsy Tour of the motorcycleists opens the same day, but the boys with these speed wagons have promised to keep subdued until the bulls and heifers are safely out of the way. The stunts day of the motorcycleists has been set for Sunday.

Then follow shortly after, the Firemen's carnival and the Brainerd Chautauqua.

Sunday, June 26, two special trains carry 700 delegates through Brainerd to the sorority convention at Breezy Point Lodge and stops will be made at Brainerd Sunday afternoon, permitting the delegates to inspect our city. It is hoped to have the Brainerd Ladies band in attendance.

Late yesterday afternoon Brainerd delegates to the League of Minnesota Municipalities secured the 1928 convention for Brainerd and Breezy Point. Selection of Brainerd was no easy matter, as the town of Austin put up spirited opposition. Brainerd had a nice, comprehensive exhibit at the exposition, advertising Brainerd and the lake country.

Brainerd, as mentioned in all convention literature, is easy of access because it is centrally located. Rail and highway naturally converge to the center of the state, making Brainerd the hub of Minnesota.

No convention is sought unless the delegates are assured of the necessary backing. Record is kept of assistance proffered by various civic organizations, so they can be called on months hence when the convention gathers in the city.

SHOULD PUNISH SUCH A MAN

HERE in Minnesota when a man wilfully gives a newspaper misinformation, he faces the courts and may be punished.

Some kind of punishment should be given a "sap" in Quebec who sends out a report that Nungesser and Coli, French fliers, had been found. That false report was soon relayed to the city of Quebec and from there it was telegraphed and cabled to all parts of the world.

The Minneapolis Tribune morning edition arrived in Brainerd today with a seven column screaming headline announcing, "Nungesser, Coli Reported Found," and a subhead "Fliers Safe in Quebec is Latest Word."

So far in the news report on the hoax, no one seems to have taken any action against the man who perpetrated it "just to relieve the monotony of life."

ADVERTISING IS NO DREAM

A BRAINERD DISPATCH reader brought in this quip, written a la Walt Mason and published in "The Guide Post," showing that advertising is real and earnest and no dream, by any means.

"Tell me not in mournful numbers advertising is a dream, for the business man who slumbers has no chance to skim the cream. Life is real! Life is earnest! Competition's something fierce!"

"If for dividends thou yearnest learn to parry, thrust and pierce. In the business field of battle mollycoddles have no place; be not like dumb driven cattle, be a live one in the race."

"Lives of great men all remind us we must bring home the bacon and departing leave behind us footprints on another's dome; let us then be up and doing; otherwise we may be done; still achieving, still pursuing—advertisers and get the mon."

THE newspaper business is certainly improving, excelling the days of Horace Greely, who in his time advised a man to live on parched corn if necessary to keep out of debt. The big boys in the publishing world these days are making so much money that they are able to fly high and all over the world.

"A TRUE friend embraces our objects as his own. We feel another mind bent on the same end, enjoying it, insuring it, reflecting it, and delighting in our devotion to it," says Channing.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

June 17, 1902

There was a meeting of the city council last night in the council chambers, President Crust presiding. The teamsters in the employ of the city sent a communication asking that, in view of the fact that feed was higher this year than last, their wages be tilted 50 cents a day. The request was on motion granted.

There was a petition signed by some 36 residents of Southeast Brainerd asking that a curved bicycle path be run along Oak street the same as in other parts of the city.

Alderman Fogelstrom moved that the matter of opening Thirteenth street out to the spring be referred to the street committee to investigate and report at the next meeting.

The matter of paving, Laurel, Front and Sixth streets had its full airing. A motion was made by Alderman Rowley that the street commissioner proceed to pave Laurel street according to specifications in the hands of the city engineer. In all probability all three streets will be paved as soon as possible.

The excursion to Detroit City Saturday for the employees of the Northern Pacific in this city will positively be an exclusive affair this year. None but employees of the company can get on this train without taking the chances of being put off. This is imperative and the company as well as employees are going to see to it that this rule is enforced.

ATHLETIC COMMISSION OF ILLINOIS TO ANNOUNCE FINDINGS

Springfield, Ill., June 17.—(UP)—The decision of the legislative committee, appointed to investigate the Illinois Athletic commission, will be made public before the close of the present session of the Illinois legislature it was disclosed today.

The final hearing was last night. Members of the Athletic commission appeared and testified that Johnny Coulton, one time bantamweight champion, and Kid Howard—both of whom are now promoting boxing shows in Chicago—were "disgruntled members" of the promoting fraternity.

Both Howard and Coulton previously had appeared before the commission and had charged the commission would not permit them to stage boxing shows in Chicago. Both had charged it was a case of prejudice towards them.

Members of the commission said that Coulton had demanded refunds from some of the fighters he had matched and that Howard staged "amateur" bouts which in reality were professional affairs.

COVELESKIE IS GIVEN RELEASE

Washington, June 17.—(UP)—Stanley Coveleskie, one of the last of the spit ball pitchers, was unconditionally released by Manager Bucky Harris of the Washington Senators today.

He held the distinction of winning three games of a world series, when he played for Cleveland in 1920. He lost two games for the senators during the last world series of that team. A strained back made him ineffective this season.

SCANNING THE FLOPS, OUTDOOR SPORT SEASON

TWO MOST PROMINENT DOWNFALLS HAPPENED ON WATER

COLLEGIATE ROWING PROSPECTS REVIEWED BY FARRELL

By HENRY L. FARRELL, (United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, June 17.—Among the flops of the great, which have furnished many early surprises of the young outdoor sport season, the two most pronounced downfalls happened on the water.

For five years since Ed Leader came from Washington to take Yale rowing out of the hands of the old grads and run it to his own liking, Yale had become almost invincible. Until a few weeks ago Leader's Yale varsity crews hadn't lost a race.

The same condition prevailed on the west coast, where Washington ruled during the same period at a rowing institution with a system and the man power that couldn't be beaten. Washington and Yale were admitted to be the rulers of the water but the eastern and western champions never met, as Yale prefers a four mile race with Harvard to the intercollegiate championship regatta at Washington.

While it might have been argued that Yale was no better in 1924 than Washington, Yale got the assignment to wear the American shield in the Paris Olympic games and won the championship from some of the best crews in the world.

It was more than a shock then when a Princeton crew that was hardly regarded as much after losing to Massachusetts Tech gave the mighty Yale varsity a beating on the Princeton home waters. It was just as much a surprise in the east when California gave Washington a fine licking in the coast championship race. It may not have been a surprise in California but the east was betting on Washington simply because it was a Washington crew.

Yale rowing men explained the upset by Princeton as being the result of a long distance crew in a short race no dead water but Harvard men are running around quietly grabbing all the money offered that Yale will win the annual race this year.

Money is also being offered that Washington will be beaten in the four-oared varsity race but a hunch prevails that the results of the intercollegiate track and field championships will be repeated—that the champion will be beaten but that the championship will remain on the Pacific coast through a victory by California.

Cornell, Syracuse, Columbia, Pennsylvania and California are working on the Hudson river course and Washington and the navy are expected there within a few days, as well as the Wisconsin Freshman crew.

There isn't much boasting about the chances of an eastern crew taking the varsity championship away from the far west but because of its great record the navy is held up as a hope for the principal reason that navy crews are also powerful and full of rowing.

BIG MILK FLOOD COMING

A FLOOD of nearly 2,124,000 gallons of milk is due on Crow Wing county farms during the next 150 days, according to an estimate made by the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. About two-thirds will be consumed within 48 hours after it is produced. But fully 708,000 gallons will be separated, converted into cream, held for four or five days perhaps, then marketed as butterfat. It is the handling of this last third of the production in warm weather that largely determines the farmer's yearly profit from his cows.

Three times as much milk is produced in summer as in winter, just at the time when it is most difficult to care for milk products properly. Cleanliness and low temperature are the secrets of producing high quality products. One of the big factors in the price paid for cream is its quality. Progressive farmers are increasing their incomes by taking advantage of the new system of handling milk products recommended by the agricultural colleges.

Absolute cleanliness and cold water are the basis of the college methods. Prof. E. H. Farrington of the University of Wisconsin, one of America's greatest agricultural instructors, explains the procedure of making sweet cream in substance, as follows: After each skimming, take the separator bowl and tinware apart immediately, wash with cold water, then wash with hot water, a brush and washing powder, finally scalding with boiling water or steam so that wiping will be unnecessary. Cool the cream as it comes from the separator or immediately after, and keep it below 60 degrees.

In the absence of ice or a running spring, a cooling tank can be arranged by placing a covered barrel or tub, large enough to hold two cans, between a pump and a watering trough. The smaller of the two cans should be used to hold the warm cream until it is thoroughly cooled down, then it can be added to the cold cream in the larger can. Never mix warm and cold cream. By following these directions, the average farmer with home-made equipment can market, if not always a sweet product, at least always a high quality product that will fetch high prices.

The South Side baseball club took undisputed possession of first place in the city baseball league by defeating the Northeast team by the count of 6 to 4 in one of the most thrilling games witnessed on the N. P. stadium.

Hanson's circuit clout in the third with one man on was the hitting feature of the evening.

Van Walk allowed seven hits which included one three base hit, a home run and a double.

Hegstead who holds down the look in corner for S. S. took all his nine chances without a muff. Jarbee collected three hits off Swanson and Van Walk, two.

Yesterday's hero—Paul Waner, young Pittsburgh outfielder, who hit in his 19th consecutive game as the Pirates defeated Boston, 6-0. Through the victory the Pirates managed to maintain a slim margin over the second place Chicago Cubs. Lee Meadows held the Braves to six scattered hits.

The Chicago Cubs set up a new 1927 winning streak by taking their twelfth straight victory, this one from Philadelphia, 7-2. Gabby Hartnett got a home run to help in the victory. The previous winning streak was held by the Pirates who won 11 straight games.

The Cincinnati Reds had little difficulty in defeating Brooklyn, 10 to 1. Luque kept the Robin hits well scattered.

The New York Giants stopped their six game slide down hill by beating the St. Louis Cardinals, 10 to 5. It was a big day for Rogers Hornsby who hit safely four times in four games at bat; one of the blows was the former Cardinal manager's 11th home run of the season.

Home runs by Ruth and Gehrig—No. 22 for the Babe and No. 15 for Columbia Lou, and the presence of Col. Charles Lindbergh at Yankee stadium made the 8-1 victory of the Yanks over the St. Louis Browns a gala event. Lindbergh arrived to see the game, but the only tally chalked up by his fellow-townsmen was Schulte's homer in the seventh.

Bill Barrett and Bill Hunnefeld hit home runs to feature the 4-0 blanking of the Philadelphia Athletics by the Chicago White Sox. Bernie Neis, acquired from Cleveland via the waiver route, was in a Sox uniform although he did not play.

With Ira Flagstead back in the line-up the Boston Red Sox braced and won a slugger's match from the Cleveland Indians 11 to 10. Flag-stead got three hits and scored two runs.

Lil Stoner was touched for only four hits as the Detroit Tigers slapped down the Washington Senators 6-1. The Tigers massed hits in the last two innings for the last runs.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Kansas City staged a rally in the ninth to win the second straight from Indianapolis, 4 to 1, after a 1-all tie had held the game deadlocked for eight innings. The victory placed the Blues in third place. A triple, a single, a pass and a double resulted in the last inning scores.

Columbus, O.—Pitcher Meeker of Columbus blanked Minneapolis, holding them to four hits, and won his sixth consecutive game. The score was 4 to 0. Meeker's double brought in the winning run. He allowed only two Minneapolis players to reach third.

Toledo—Eight St. Paul players made 27 hits, winning over Toledo, 13 to 0. Shealy allowed the Mud Hens five hits and scored his second shut-out in two days.

Louisville—Milwaukee soared into first place over Toledo by beating Louisville, 5 to 1. Gerin held Toledo to seven hits while his team mates were gathering eight bunched hits.

FIGHT RESULTS

Chicago—Mike Dundee, Rock Island, Ill., featherweight, outpointed King Tut, Minneapolis, in 10 rounds. Freddie Mueller, Buffalo lightweight, outpointed Sid Barbarian, Detroit, in 10 rounds. Bill Hall and Frankie Kennard boxed an eight round draw, while Joey Medill beat Babe Ruth in eight rounds.

"KING BEN" ONCE ESSAYED HULA HULA DANCE

RUTH BAMFORD REED SO TESTIFIES IN HOUSE OF DAVID HEARING

ALLEGES SHE WAS AN INTIMATE OF PURNELL WHEN 10 YEARS OLD

St. Joseph, Mich., June 17.—(UP)—Corrupt "King" Benjamin Purnell on one occasion essayed a "Hula Hula dance" for the amusement of young women of the House of David colony who were his companions in Shiloh, Ruth Bamford Reed, Detroit, testified today in the state suit to disband the cult.

Mrs. Reed told of her life in the colony, alleging she was an intimate of Purnell from the time she was 10 years old until she left late in 1922.

"I was born in the House of David and grew up 'in the faith,'" the girl told the court.

"I was large for my age and when I was 10 years old, Benjamin took me to Shiloh and explained his purification rites to me. I was one of his favorites.

"Benjamin would become playful at times and attempt to entertain the girls that surrounded him. He tried to play the piano but did it very badly and when someone else played, Benjamin once showed us 'how to do a Hula Hula dance' as he called it."

Mrs. Reed said she consented to marry in March, 1922, because she believed the only way she could get out of the colony was by going with a husband.

"I had tried to leave before," the girl explained, "but Mary (Purnell's wife) cried when I told her I was going and bought me a new pair of shoes to make me more satisfied."

"Finally I was married to Robert Reed and we left about six months later. Benjamin told me before I went that if I told my husband what had happened in Shiloh, he would leave me and I would be turned out in the streets."

Mrs. Reed, with her sister, Gladys Bamford Rubel, is held by the colony to be largely responsible for its present difficulties. The girls stimulated the state investigation which resulted in the present proceedings by filing civil damage suits against Purnell for $100,000 each.

The suits have not come to trial and there are also criminal charges pending against Purnell for statutory offense against each of the Bamford girls.

GOVERNMENT

PARTY OF IRISH

FREE STATE MINORITY

London, June 17.—(UP)—The Daily Telegraph's Dublin correspondent today quoted President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State as saying he would not form a government, taking the attitude that his party is now in the minority in the Free State after last week's general election.

Although the government party has a plurality of three over the republicans, the opposition party, it lacks a majority and could continue in control of the dail only if given the support of a sufficient number of the various independent parties.

Clara Bow, Esther Ralston Co-Starring in New Frank Lloyd Production

Those who attended the Lyceum last night were pleasantly surprised by the feature picture, Frank Lloyd's Paramount production "Children of Divorce."

Described as a dramatic expose of the younger married set, it amounted to that—and as for the story, it tells of two girls who grow to womanhood in practically the same environment, only one has learned a lesson while the other's passage through life has been carefree and unheeding. Then, a climax is reached.

We recommend seeing "Children of Divorce" tonight, last night.

Thrilling Sea Picture at the Lyceum Vibrant with the lure of the South Seas—powerful with a story of love and regeneration—pungent with the tang of the ocean—"Breed of the Sea" comes to the Lyceum Theatre Saturday with a new and refreshing note of entertainment.

"On Guard," a new serial, will also have its first showing.

"KING BEN" ONCE ESSAYED HULA HULA DANCE

RUTH BAMFORD REED SO TESTI-FIES IN HOUSE OF DAVID
HEARING

ALLEGES SHE WAS AN INTIMATE
OF PURNELL WHEN 10 YEARS OLD

St. Joseph, Mich., June 17.—(UP)—Corpulent "King" Benjamin Purnell on one occasion essayed a "Hula Hula dance" for the amusement of young women of the House of David colony who were his companions in Shiloh, Ruth Bamford Reed, Detroit, testified today in the state suit to disband the cult.

Mrs. Reed told of her life in the colony, alleging she was an intimate of Purnell from the time she was 10 years old until she left late in 1922. "I was born in the House of David and grew up 'in the faith,'" the girl told the court.

"I was large for my age and when I was 10 years old, Benjamin took me to Shiloh and explained his purification rites to me. I was one of his favorites.

"Benjamin would become playful at times and attempt to entertain the girls that surrounded him. He tried to play the piano but did it very badly and when some one else played, Benjamin once showed us 'how to do a Hula Hula dance' as he called it."

Mrs. Reed said she consented to marry in March, 1922, because she believed the only way she could get out of the colony was by going with a husband.

"I had tried to leave before," the girl explained, "but Mary (Purnell's wife) cried when I told her I was going and bought me a new pair of shoes to make me more satisfied.

"Finally I was married to Robert Reed and we left about six months later. Benjamin told me before I went that if I told my husband what had happened in Shiloh, he would leave me and I would be turned out in the streets."

Mrs. Reed, with her sister, Gladys Bamford Rubel, is held by the colony to be largely responsible for its present difficulties. The girls stimulated the state investigation which resulted in the present proceedings by filing civil damage suits against Purnell for $100,000 each.

The suits have not come to trial and there are also criminal charges pending against Purnell for statutory offense against each of the Bamford girls.

Why we sell the DUNLOP TIRE

FOR 39 YEARS Dunlop has been building the world's supreme tire. Dunlops wear longer because Dunlop knows how to build better at each vital point.

Take the hidden carcass beneath the tread. Dunlop owns its own cotton mills for no other purpose than to spin the best long-fibre cotton into the famous cable-twist cord that goes into this carcass.

The extra strength in these cords means an added factor of safety against constant load and pounding of roads—longer life and greater mileage.

The extra "stretch" enables the carcass to give under severe blows, and to come back into its original position without internal injury.

The Dunlop tread—the toughest rubber development known—wears slowly and smoothly, making sure that you get out of your Dunlops, all the extra mileage that added care and longer experience have built into them. We recommend that you put Dunlops on your car.

BOBBY JONES IS GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN

RELINQUISHES HIS TITLE, TEMPORARILY AT LEAST

HARD TO BE LAWYER AND AT TOP OF GOLF AT SAME TIME

By MARY K. BROWNE
Oakmont Country Club, Hulton, Pa., June 17.—(UP)—To the dead on "no man's land" at Oakmont during the battle for possession of the great national open golf championship I dedicate this eulogy.

Bobby Jones, the young general, is gone but not forgotten. Bobby has relinquished his title, temporarily at least, to one of the two professionals, Harry Cooper of Los Angeles, or Tommy Armour of Washington, D. C., who tied yesterday and will play off this afternoon for the title.

It was not a surprise to me that Bobby did not win, because I do not believe he can be both a lawyer and at the top of golf at the same time, anyone than William Tilden could be an actor and at the same time at the top of tennis. Nor could Jack Dempsey be a movie star and the best prize fighter in the world. Simply because you must specialize in games as you do in a profession or you cannot hope to compete successfully with opponents who are devoting their lives to a single objective. Why is Lindbergh such a great flyer? Because he lives and dreams of aviation.

However, there is the other extreme of Walter Hagen for instance who I believe is "foundered" on golf. You may think me inconsistent in saying this, after saying one should devote his life to one objective if he hopes to be and remain at the top. The point is, you must play enough to be hardened to the strain of competition but not too much to become stale. How much is where the individual has to be wise.

Gene Sarazen was severely "wounded" in the third round yesterday when he took a large 80, but showed his nerve and fighting spirit when he came back in the afternoon, to finish only one stroke behind the leaders. What a sickening feeling it must give Gene to think back when he could have so easily saved that one stroke and been in today's play off for the title.

Harrison Johnson was had led the field for two days, accumulated the lead by blowing up right at the first nine of the third round. He didn't keep anyone in suspense. He himself didn't expect to win so I guess he didn't lose any sleep last night. "Wild" Bill Mehlhorn gave himself a thrill and little Harry Cooper the leader, nervous chills when he (Mehlhorn) went crazy and shot the first nine of the last round in five under par, then descended from the heights to the depths with six over par for the last nine of the same round. That kind of golf is purely and simply a case of shattered nerves. Skill of ability to play shots could not fluctuate so much within a round. Think of it, from five under to six over par.

Emmett French put off his funeral until the 15th hole of the last round. He was inwardly afraid of the fast 15th green and played short with an iron, then just as he was about to approach, one of those diabolical movie cameras started to reel. He was short with his putt and missed coming back. A wicked six. His spirit was broken and his grave open and waiting for him at the next hole. He resignedly stepped in.

Tommy Armour was flirting with death for five holes of the last round. He certainly deserves the "distinguished service cross" for he was faced with the task of shooting one under par for these last five holes to tie Harry Cooper. He served drama a la carte and like a true gentleman saved his greatest deed for the 18th hole, where all those who had followed and all those who had not or could not follow him were privileged to see. He came to the four par 18th obliged to make a birdie, three to stay in the championship. He cracked out a beautiful drive. Then with a perfect iron he was five feet from the pin. Rounds of applause greeted him as he stepped on to the green. He had to have that putt, and at least two thousand eyes were riveted on him. Think of the nerve it took. Armour sunk that putt.

I was never more thrilled over any exhibition of nerve and courage. I have felt that for the spectator golf lacked the thrills of tennis, football and baseball, but yesterday, though I ran myself ragged getting it, I had plenty of drama and excitement.

Harry Cooper, the boy who has set the pace and made the greatest array of golfers in the world sit up and take notice, is a combination of brilliance, egotism and courage that is not unlike the prize-ring contender Jack Sharkey—the type of athlete that I believe will dominate games in the future. He has a hunch for the title, because I think his golf is as good as Armour's from the tee to the greens and while Armour is a better putter than Cooper, I think Harry Cooper's confidence will help him get by on the greens.

ONLY ONE HITCH APPARENT IN PROPOSED BOUT

JACK DEMPSEY AND TEX RICKARD CONDUCT NEGOTIATIONS

Los Angeles, June 16.—(UP)—There is only one hitch between Jack Dempsey and Tex Rickard regarding the Dempsey-Sharkey fight, announced by Tex Rickard for July 21 in New York.

The hitch, the former champion of the world said today, is contained in an answer received yesterday to his financial demands for their fight.

In meeting his requirements for 30 per cent of the gate, Rickard asked Dempsey for an option on his services to meet Gene Tunney in September, providing he defeats Sharkey, Dempsey said.

Meanwhile, Johnny Buckley, manager of Sharkey, left here last night for the east, expressing complete willingness to have Sharkey meet Dempsey, but insisting that the Bostonian must get as much for the bout as Dempsey does.

The whole thing will be settled soon, Dempsey thinks.

DEMPSEY PREPARES FOR BOUT WITH JACK SHARKEY

Los Angeles, June 17.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the world, was ready to board a train for New York today, to prepare for his proposed bout with Jack Sharkey, July 21.

Estelle Taylor, his wife, and his trainer, Jerry Luvadis, planned to accompany him. The party will stop a few hours in New Orleans and then go to Washington, D. C., and thence to New York. Mrs. Dempsey intends to visit relatives in Wilmington, Del.

While he had not received definite information from Tex Rickard as to whether Sharkey had been signed for the fight, Dempsey said he assumed the Bostonian will come to terms with Rickard. Otherwise, Dempsey will sign up with some other promoter for a fight in August, he said.

Dempsey will make all his own arrangements regarding the fight, he said, but plans to employ a business manager for his camp.

BOBBY JONES IS GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN

RELINQUISHES HIS TITLE, TEMPORARILY AT LEAST
HARD TO BE LAWYER AND AT TOP OF GOLF AT SAME TIME

By MARY K. BROWNE
Oakmont Country Club, Hulton, Pa., June 17.—(UP)—To the dead on "no man's land" at Oakmont during the battle for possession of the great national open golf championship I dedicate this eulogy.

Bobby Jones, the young general, is gone but not forgotten. Bobby has relinquished his title, temporarily at least, to one of the two professionals, Harry Cooper of Los Angeles, or Tommy Armour of Washington, D. C., who tied yesterday and will play off this afternoon for the title.

It was not a surprise to me that Bobby did not win, because I do not believe he can be both a lawyer and at the top of golf at the same time, anyone than William Tilden could be an actor and at the same time at the top of tennis. Nor could Jack Dempsey be a movie star and the best prize fighter in the world. Simply because you must specialize in games as you do in a profession or you cannot hope to compete successfully with opponents who are devoting their lives to a single objective. Why is Lindbergh such a great flyer? Because he lives and dreams of aviation.

However, there is the other extreme of Walter Hagen for instance who I believe is "founded" on golf. You may think me inconsistent in saying this, after saying one should devote his life to one objective if he hopes to be and remain at the top. The point is, you must play enough to be hardened to the strain of competition but not too much to become stale. How much is where the individual has to be wise.

Gene Sarazen was severely "wounded" in the third round yesterday when he took a large 80, but showed his nerve and fighting spirit when he came back in the afternoon to finish only one stroke behind the leaders. What a sickening feeling it must give Gene to think back when he could have so easily saved that one stroke and been in today's play off for the title.

Harrison Johnson who had led the race for two days, accumulated the lead by blowing up right at the first nine of the third round. He didn't keep anyone in suspense. He himself didn't expect to win as I guess he didn't lose any sleep last night.

"Wild" Bill Mehlhorn gave himself a thrill and little Harry Cooper the leader, nervous chills when he (Mehlhorn) went crazy and shot the first nine of the last round in five under par, then descended from the heights to the depths with six over par for the last nine of the same round. That kind of golf is purely and simply a case of shattered nerves. Skill of ability to play shots could not fluctuate so much within a round. Think of it, from five under to six over par.

Emmett French put off his funeral until the 15th hole of the last round. He was inwardly afraid of the fast 15th green and played short with an iron, then just as he was about to approach, one of those diabolical movie cameras started to reel. He was short with his approach, over too far with his putt and missed coming back. A wicked six. His spirit was broken and his grave open and waiting for him at the next hole. He resignedly stepped in.

Tommy Armour was flirting with death for five holes of the last round. He certainly deserves the "distinguished service cross" for he was faced with the task of shooting one under par for these last five holes to tie Harry Cooper. He served drama a la carte and like a true gentleman saved his greatest deed for the 18th hole, where all those who had followed and all those who had not or could not follow him were privileged to see. He came to the four par 18th obliged to make a birdie three to stay in the championship. He cracked out a beautiful drive. Then with a perfect iron he was five feet from the pin. Rounds of applause greeted him as he stepped on to the green. He had to have that putt, and at least two thousand eyes were riveted on him. Think of the nerve it took. Armour sunk that putt.

I was never more thrilled over any exhibition of nerve and courage. I have felt that for the spectator golf lacked the thrills of tennis, football and baseball, but yesterday, though I ran myself ragged getting it, I had plenty of drama and excitement.

Harry Cooper, the boy who has set the pace and made the greatest array of golfers in the world sit up and take notice, is a combination of brilliance, egotism and courage that is not unlike the prize-ringer contender Jack Sharkey—the type of athlete that I believe will dominate games in the future. He has a hunch for the title, because I think his golf is as good as Armour's from the tee to the greens and while Armour is a better putter than Cooper, I think Harry Cooper's confidence will help him get by on the greens.

ONLY ONE HITCH APPARENT IN PROPOSED BOUT

JACK DEMPSEY AND TEX RICKARD CONDUCT NEGOTIATIONS

Los Angeles, June 16.—(UP)—There is only one hitch between Jack Dempsey and Tex Rickard regarding the Dempsey-Sharkey fight, announced by Tex Rickard for July 21 in New York.

The hitch, the former champion of the world said today, is contained in an answer received yesterday to his financial demands for their fight. In meeting his requirements for 30 per cent of the gate, Rickard asked Dempsey for an option on his services to meet Gene Tunney in September, providing he defeats Sharkey, Dempsey said.

Meanwhile, Johnny Buckley, manager of Sharkey, left here last night for the east, expressing complete willingness to have Sharkey meet Dempsey, but insisting that the Bostonian must get as much for the bout as Dempsey does.

The whole thing will be settled soon, Dempsey thinks.

DEMPSEY PREPARES FOR BOUT WITH JACK SHARKEY

Los Angeles, June 17.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the world, was ready to board a train for New York today, to prepare for his proposed bout with Jack Sharkey, July 21.

Estelle Taylor, his wife, and his trainer, Jerry Luvadis, planned to accompany him. The party will stop a few hours in New Orleans and then go to Washington, D. C., and thence to New York. Mrs. Dempsey intends to visit relatives in Wilmington, Del.

While he had not received definite information from Tex Rickard as to whether Sharkey had been signed for the fight, Dempsey said he assumed the Bostonian will come to terms with Rickard. Otherwise, Dempsey will sign up with some other promoter for a fight in August, he said.

Dempsey will make all his own arrangements regarding the fight, he said, but plans to employ a business manager for his camp.
